Implementation of CAUSE report under study by council

Directors of the Minden Business Improvement Area are eager to proceed with the recommendations contained in the recent CAUSE report, and Minden council has endorsed the idea of a study to help implement several major CAUSE recommendations for improvement to the downtown core.

Council's decision to endorse the study was reached after a presentation by BIA directors Stu Brandon and Jack Brezina at a regular council session last week. Brandon presented council with a short list of priority improvements taken from the CAUSE study, the findings of which were published in the June 2 issue of The Times. The BIA recommended to

Minden council an engineering study and survey of the following areas of downtown improvement:

- Existing sidewalks, sidewalk extensions to Dr. Purc's office and Minden Fruit Market.
- Proposed Newcastle Street closing and cul de sac.
- Milne Street and Bobcaygeon Road intersection regrading and widening.
- Milne Street and South Water Street intersection.
- Proposed South Water Street closing and park.
- Parking lots and extensions.
- Walkways and proposed walkways.
- Street lighting.

In addition to the formal suggestions above, the BIA is also pressing council to consider rezoning the large hill behind the Rockcliffe Hotel, an area which the CAUSE study designates "Mt. Minden". Brandon told council that, because of the hill's high visibility both from the village and the highway, it should be rezoned commercial to allow development on the site. The area has been zoned residential in the new zoning by-law.

Brandon also told council that improvements to access points on Highway 35 would benefit an overall enhancement of the downtown core. More strict enforcement of the existing property standards by-law would help improve the appearance of the village, according to Brandon.

Although council's resolution to endorse the study indicates its general approval of the plan, councillors expressed some reservations about certain of the CAUSE recommendations that the BIA hopes to see carried out. Councillor Lyle McKnight told Brandon that the closing of South Water Street in front of the Post Office could create congestion at the intersection of Prince and South Water Streets. Brandon responded by saying that the proposed closure would create a "T" intersection at the two streets, instead of the six lane convergence that now exists at the site. "The new plan

Stanhope taxes up 7.4 per cent in 1982

Tax payers in Stanhope township will face a 7.4 per cent rise in taxes this year, and, as in most municipalities, School Board and County assessments will be the chief reasons for the increases.

The Stanhope budget for 1982, passed by council at a meeting June 9, calls for $840,537 in expenditures for the year. The school board levy will make up more than 50 per cent of that amount, totalling $452,143, while the county levy, the subject of considerable objections from most municipalities this year, has been set at $76,444.

The Stanhope roads budget for 1982 will be $65,785. General municipal expenditures will account for $246,165.

The school board levy is up $45,693 from last year. The county levy has increased $1,259, and general municipal expenditures are up nearly 10 per cent from last year's budget, for an increase of $21,165.

Mill rates for the four taxation groups have been raised to meet the increased spending demands. Residential school taxes for 1982 are up 10.15 per cent over last year, from 359.5 mills in 1981 to 396.0 mills this year. The mill rate for county taxes is up 0.9 per cent to 66.8 mills. Roads has increased 1.19 per cent to 59.1, and general municipal mill rate is up 5.7 per cent to 139.0 mills. One mill will raise approximately $1,000 in Stanhope in 1982, most of which will come from residential taxes. Commercial and industrial assessment brings in only 2 to 3 per cent of the total assessment in the township.

Council has applied a 1981 surplus of $15,000 to this year's budget, a move which Stanhope clerk-treasurer Gerald Bain says has allowed the municipality to reduce mill rates. According to Bain, Stanhope councillors are pleased with the restraints in this year's budget. "Council had to face the idea of attempting to restrain expenditures without lowering the level of services provided this year. They had to contend with the inflationary increases in the cost of providing those services as well. In general, though, the consensus of council members is that these things have been accomplished," Bain said in discussing budget figures this week.

Bain added that the new tax rates for Stanhope represent an approximate increase of $27 on every $600 of residential tax assessments in the township.

Below is a list of expenses and mill rates as contained in Stanhope's budget for 1982, along with a comparison of figures for the 1981 budget.

Financial report shows good year for municipality

The financial report for the townships of Anson, Hindon and Minden is in, and according to councillor Ed Pergolas, chairman of the municipal finance committee, the municipality is in good financial shape.

Pergolas reviewed the finding of the report, prepared for the municipality by accountant Gary Thurston according to provincial guidelines, with The Times Monday. According to Pergolas, a comparison of the accumulated net revenue for 1980 and 1981 shows significant improvements in municipal financing last year. Listed below are the funds remaining at year end for each tax category for the two years:

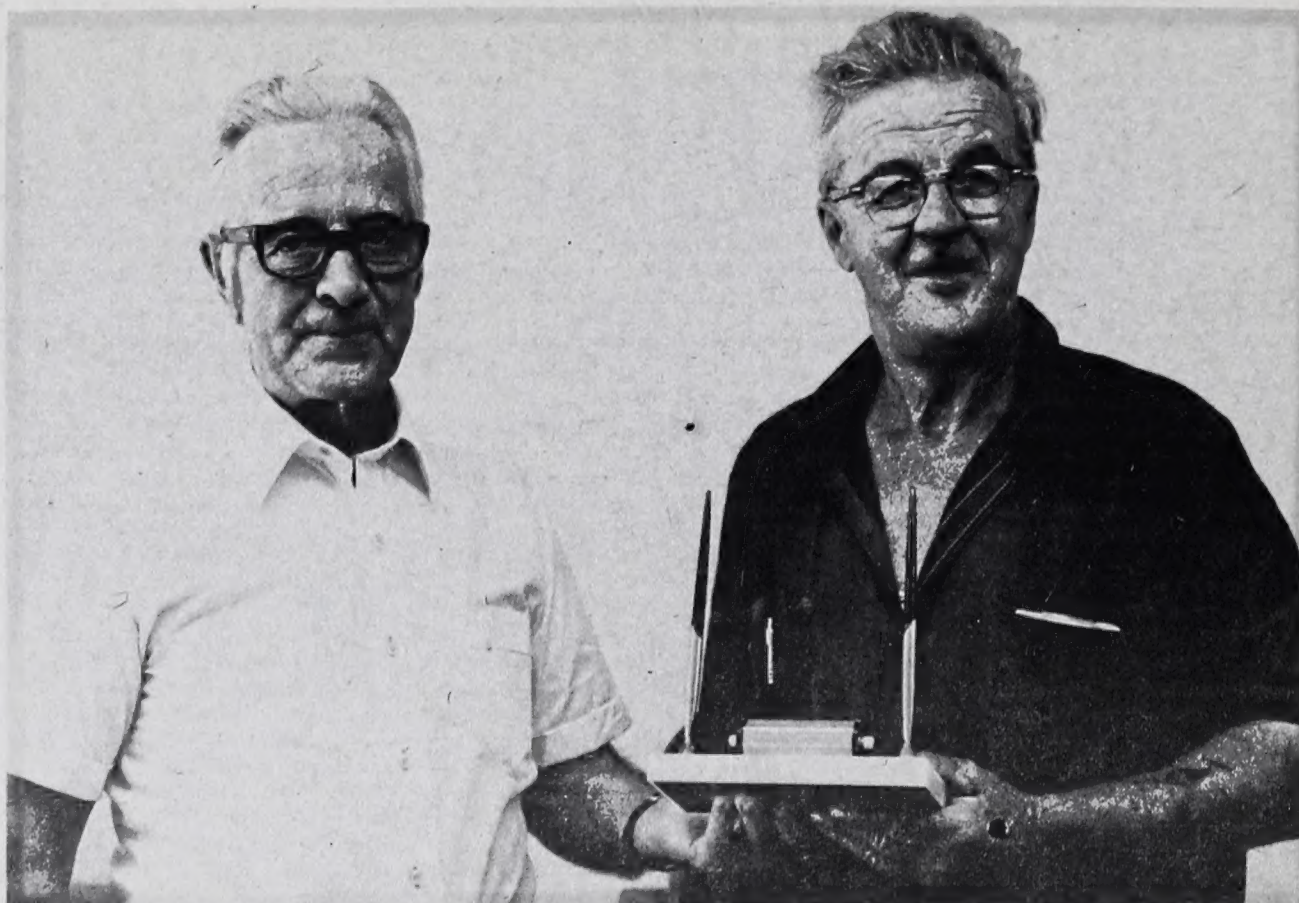

Tax Category	1980	1981
General rate payers	28,315	103,231
Business Improvement Area	nil	3,000
Water Works System	-40,712	-22,115
Sewer System	-9,473	22,643
School Board	-630	1,143
County Ratepayers	731	-649
Total	-21,769	107,253

Although the figures above suggest a healthy financial picture for the municipality last year, Pergolas warns that many hidden charges from the provincial government reduce the total surplus significantly. Pergolas says most of the surplus will be applied to reserve funds in the 1982 budget, a move which has left the municipality well buffered against unseen expenditures. "I would say the municipality stands very well. It's been reflected in the 1982 budget. We've applied most of the surplus to the reserve funds, and they are now in excellent shape. If you were president of a company and you had a statement like this one, you'd be smiling all the way to the bank," Pergolas explained while reviewing the report Monday.

Recent changes in the administration of both the water and sewer systems have saved the municipality considerable amounts in administrative fees paid to the province, and more changes are currently planned.

Pergolas also feels that there is more progress yet to be made. "We could still save a lot more money and do a lot more things," he told The Times. "Our capital works projects are way behind. The roads and sidewalks need work; there's a lot to spend money on."

Pergolas is careful to caution, however, that all but the very basic expenditures must be made with caution. "The main thrust of it is, we're working with a surplus and we want to apply it in a way that gets the most benefit for the greatest number of people."

It has been 30 years since Albert Cox first began working for the municipal roads department and at a meeting last week, the council took the opportunity to extend gratitude and congratulations to Mr. Cox. Here he accepts a pen and calendar set from Reeve Lloyd Walker.

CAUSE recommendations to get closer examination would have only four lanes converging at Prince and Water. This "T" intersection will be a lot easier to control than the existing intersection," Brandon said.

Reeve Lloyd Walker told the BIA representatives that he objects to the proposed closing of Newcastle Street but that he agrees the idea could be considered in the study.

After presenting council with the proposals for the engineer's study, the BIA group outlined a proposed implementation of the changes. According to the BIA, the improvements should be made in the following order:

- Reconstruct and widen existing sidewalks.
- Construct sidewalk extensions.
- Close Newcastle Street.
- Regrade and widen Milne Street/Bobcaygeon Road intersection.
- Close South Water Street for park area.
- Develop existing and proposed parking lots.

- Develop walkways.
- Address Street lighting.

The BIA's presentation recommends that the above improvements be completed by June 15, 1983, with funds for the engineer's study coming from the $10,000 which has been budgeted for planning expenditures in the recently released budget for 1982.

MTC representative Don Glashan, attending the meeting to discuss downtown road improvements with council, told Brandon that any changes to Highway 35 access points would have to be approved first by the MTC. "The existing exits have been designed for safety and proper traffic flow, and any changes would have to meet with MTC standards first," Glashan said.

Glashan agreed, however, that the landscaping and new signs proposed for the South Water Street and Bobcaygeon Road entrances would probably not present a safety problem at the sites.

Builder defends centre - maintenance will keep it dry

The Minden Library-Cultural Centre was the subject of another flare-up at municipal council last week, when Ronald Wrightman, the former owner of the company that built the structure, accused council of using the building as a "political whipping block" and blasted the Haliburton County Echo for its reporting on the centre. Wrightman met with the council for a half hour Wednesday.

Although Wrightman attended the meeting to argue against allegations that the building has serious structural problems and to offer consulting services to council on any renovations planned for the building, the session was marked by several heated exchanges between Wrightman and Reeve Lloyd Walker, who disagrees strongly on plans to prevent further problems at the Centre.

Wrightman's meeting with council came in response to articles published in both The Times and The Echo giving details of a report by the centre's committee chairman Bob Herlihy on structural problems at the centre. Wrightman told council last Wednesday that, contrary to Herlihy's report leakage at the building's foundation has been caused by improper maintenance by the municipality, and there has been no shrinkage of timbers. Wrightman also told council that he has stopped all leakage at the building by personally repairing caulking around the foundation work which he claims is part of a regular maintenance schedule for log buildings.

Wrightman went on to say that articles published in The Echo when the contract was awarded to Confederation Log Homes, the company Wrightman owned in 1981, have "greatly prejudiced" the public against the company. Wrightman told council that complaints by a rival contractor published in The Echo in 1981 "set the scene for the public believing they were overcharged for the product I provided."

The contractor told The Echo that the municipality had been unfair in not giving his company an opportunity to bid on the contract for the Centre. Wrightman told council that he had tried on three occasions to make a statement to The Echo in defence of the building and the company but that the editor of the paper had broken an appointment with him at his Haliburton office.

Wrightman also said that the municipality had been ill-advised in choosing to consult round log builders for advice on the centre, since it is of square log construction. Of the three men consulted on the foundation problems at the centre prior to Herlihy's report, Wrightman pointed out, "One works in timber, one lives in a log house and one builds round log homes." Councillor Lyle McKnight pointed out to Wrightman, however, that the consultants were chosen by the cultural centre committee, and not by municipal council.

During the half hour session, Wrightman also pointed out that an engineer's study commissioned by the municipality last year, found that the concrete block building, and Wrightman claims that the design is responsible for the leakage that did occur at the base of the building earlier this year.

Despite Wrightman's claims that the foundation log has been sealed, Reeve Lloyd Walker continued to press for building a concrete or asphalt skirt around the bottom of the building to prevent further leakage. Wrightman has argued strongly against the idea, and he told council during Wednesday's session that had he not objected to the plan, the municipality would probably have gone ahead with it.

Both Walker and Lyle McKnight, however, told Wrightman that the centre's committee would not be allowed to proceed with any structural changes to the building without the consent of council.

The former owner of the log building company told the council that he is in the process of pressing a suit against one individual for comments made about the durability of the structure. He cautioned the council that he would consider extending the suit to include others in the community if they insist on stating the building will only last a certain number of years.

Prince Street due for paving this summer

The long awaited resurfacing of Minden streets will finally begin this summer.

The Ministry of Transport and Communications has offered the municipality $65,000 towards the cost of a major road reconstruction project in Minden, and engineers are now preparing a cost analysis for the repaving of Prince Street.

The MTC funding is part of a special make-work project offered to municipalities that meet the program's requirements this year. Under the terms of the program, the ministry makes use of local equipment and labour in carrying out road work. The municipality will raise $35,000 towards the $100,000 total cost that has been slated for the road improvements, with the balance being provided by the ministry.

Councillors met with Don Gashan of the MTC and engineering consultant Gord Crosbie of Totten Sims and Hubicki to review cost estimates for various road projects in Minden June 9. Although Crosbie presented an estimate of $95,000 for resurfacing Newcastle Street, council decided instead to rebuild Prince Street, since proposals from the Business Improvement Area executive currently before council call for the eventual closure of Newcastle Street at Main Street.

Crosbie estimated that the resurfacing of Prince Street may cost in the range of $130,000. According to Clerk-Treasurer Elinor Burke, Totten, Sims and Hubicki's study will establish the extent of work that can be carried out for the available funding of $100,000. Burke also says that the work on Prince Street is expected to be carried out this summer, with final paving possibly being left until the fall. The area under consideration by the municipality runs from Teesdale to Germaine Streets. The estimate by Totten, Sims and Hubicki does not include sidewalk reconstruction on the street.

Thrown from truck—man seriously injured

A Bracebridge man received major injuries Saturday when he was thrown from a pickup truck.

David McDermott, 25, was riding in the box of the vehicle Saturday night on Highway 519 in Dysart township. The driver, Morgan Shutt, also of Bracebridge, stopped the vehicle suddenly, and the impact threw McDermott out of the box, onto the cab, over the hood and finally onto the road.

McDermott was taken to Peterborough Civic Hospital where he was treated for major injuries. The incident was investigated by Constable Wim Magee.

Rockcut hit

Two people were seriously injured Sunday when their Corvette was demolished on Highway 35 in Lutterworth township.

Twenty-eight year old Michael Popovski of Toronto and passenger Kathryn Kadaja were driving on Highway 35 at Pine Ridge Road when their car left the roadway and struck a rock cut. The 1971 Corvette was completely destroyed by the impact of the crash. Popovski and Kadaja suffered serious injuries in the impact. The two were transported to Ross Memorial Hospital in Lindsay.

The incident was investigated by P.C. Barry Connelly.

Enters ditch

Two Little Britain residents escaped with cuts and bruises after being thrown from their motorcycle in an accident on Highway 118 Sunday.

Joyce Bonner, 26, was driving the 1982 Yamaha motorcycle near Boshkung Lake bridge west of Carnarvon Sunday afternoon when she failed to negotiate a corner. The cycle left the road and entered a ditch, throwing Bonner and passenger Alan Bonner, 27, into the air. Both were taken to Haliburton Red Cross Hospital and treated for cuts and bruises.

The incident was investigated by P.C. Brian Dunham.

The budget

Last week's editorial on the Anson, Hindon and Minden budget dealt with the circumstances surrounding the passing of the document. Lost in the discussion were several significant points concerning the municipal council's spending plan for 1982.

The most significant aspect is that the council has held the increase in municipal spending to 6.5%. Considering the inflationary times in which we find ourselves, the increase is certainly an acceptable amount. This figure stands in contrast to a 9.5% increase in the amount to be collected for education purposes and 4.5% more for the county.

One of the most significant expenditures for 1982 is $10,000 set aside for planning. The architects who visited the municipality at the end of May to carry out the CAUSE study made a point of noting the all but non-existent funds allocated in 1981 for planning. They suggested that dollars spent on planning, allocated with prudence, should return dividends beyond the initial investment. The council's commitment in this regard is a step in the right direction.

The final municipal budget is a document which the council can be proud of and the ratepayers should readily accept.

Our stand

This newspaper, and perhaps the press in general, has come under some criticism during the past week for our comments on the way the Anson, Hindon and Minden council has transacted its business. It has been suggested that our actions are detrimental to the municipality as a whole.

We feel an explanation of our stand is in order.

It is our position that this newspaper has a vital function to perform in keeping its readers informed of issues important to them. That means reporting fairly and honestly on various activities in the community, especially those undertaken by elected officials. That responsibility is particularly important in that the vast majority of citizens are unable, on a regular basis, to attend the meetings of these councils.

We feel this responsibility means reporting not only the "good" things which take place, but the flaws, blemishes and so-called "bad" things as well. Controversy, acrimonious debate, mistakes, errors - they deserve to be exposed to public scrutiny, not to pillory the participants or denigrate the organizations involved, but to keep citizens informed as to what is being done by elected officials on their behalf.

To ignore the negative would not be fair to our readers and the area's citizens. We feel our reporting has been fair and honest.

A second responsibility of this newspaper is to offer a commentary on what takes place in our community. This is a responsibility we take seriously, and each week, on this page we comment on issues of the day and offer our opinion. The editorial, we hope, helps to bring controversial issues to the fore, offering a point of view that may be in sharp contrast to what some people might want to hear. An editorial is one person's opinion and is open to challenge and rebuttal. That is why we encourage our readers to respond in letters to the editor. It is a public forum which, we feel, is under-utilized.

If our readers disagree with our editorial stand or question our reporting, they are free to do so. Within reason we print any signed letter submitted for publication.

Finally, even though reports in this newspaper may point out flaws in our community or the editorial commentaries may be critical, we believe such writing will result in a better place to live. Only through free and open exchange of ideas can the community achieve what is best for everyone.

Our roots run deep here and we feel the best way to serve our readers and this community is to be active, alert observers of what is going on around us.

Taxes, Hydro, coins, deer & Tories

- by John Eakins, M.P.P. -

Liberal Party members launched a debate to protest against several tax bills in the provincial budget.

The party plans to force the Government to agree to public scrutiny of the budget in a standing committee.

"We're not asking them to throw out the budget, but we feel we have the right to express our objections in this way," said House Leader Robert Nixon. "Our main aim is to get them to withdraw certain provisions like the sales tax provision. Mr. Miller has been ill-advised with this budget and it's going to have serious ramifications on the public."

Debate is centred around legislation to allow the Government to borrow $2.25-billion, in addition to tax revenues to cover expenses for the coming year.

Liberal finance critic Pat Reid, (Rainy River) addressed the House for seven straight hours.

Hydro

"Monster out of control"

With projected rate increases of 54.3 per cent over the next three years, a fast-growing and secretive bureaucracy and an unwieldy debt load, Ontario Hydro has been called a "monster out of control."

Using Hydro figures tabled before the Ontario Energy Board, Liberal Leader David Peterson charged that 40 per cent of Ontario consumers' Hydro bills will go to meeting interest payments, expected to double to $1.2-billion in 1984.

Opposition members have urged the government to consider mothballing the Darlington nuclear generating plant, for which Hydro estimates the price tag has risen to $9.685-billion from $4-billion in 1977.

Incidentally, Hydro is budgeting for an average 22 per cent raise for its top executives in 1983 in spite of the treasurer holding increases for senior civil servants to 6%.

The figures indicate average wage costs per executive of $54,760 in 1981, $62,500 this year and $76,315 in 1983.

Coins stamped in U.S.

Thousands of coins handed out by the Government proclaiming "We're Proud to be Canadians" were actually stamped in the U.S.

Liberal Don Boudria (Prescott-Russell) raised the matter in the Legislature calling it a blatant breach of the province's "Buy Canadian" policy.

Footnote: The original French-language coins were stamped with a spelling mistake using "le" in place of "de".

Youth unemployment

Foreign workers will soon flood into Ontario because young people here are unwilling to do farm work, according to the Provincial Secretary for Social Development, responding to Sean Conway's demand to know what she was going to do about a 16.4 per cent youth unemployment figure.

She was upset by his suggestion that the government has no problem providing summer jobs for its friends. He said he lived in the shadow of Algonquin Park where from May to September there are more young Tories than deer in that great provincial facility.

Editor:

With respect to the editorial and article on the annual budget which appeared in the June 9th issue of The Times, I wish to clarify a couple of points for the benefit of the ratepayers.

Firstly, the reporters for both newspapers were present at the May 26th meeting when Council agreed to hold a special "budget" meeting on June 3, therefore notice was given to the people who in turn, report the information to the general public through the news media.

Secondly a great deal of time, thought and preparation goes into the budget and Council certainly does not wish to go behind closed doors to deliver such an important document. Copies of the budget were made available to the press as soon as some minor changes had been made and, of course, answers to any questions were readily provided.

Special meetings are not dealt with in very much detail in the Municipal Act and I feel that entirely too much emphasis has been placed on this subject.

The matter of setting a municipal budget is a great undertaking and a little support rather than criticism from the local press in this and other matters would be very much appreciated.

Lloyd Walker, Reeve
Anson, Hindon & Minden

Editor:

The gang of five on council have outdone themselves this time.

Taxpayers in Anson, Hindon and Minden should be outraged at council's display of disregard when it recently passed the municipal budget in a private meeting.

A budget is drafted on behalf of the public by its representatives and, in my opinion, is a public document. After all, who pays for the municipality's expenditures?

Frankly, Clerk-Treasurer Elinor Burke contradicted herself in The Times story when, in one breath she said the meeting was effectively open to the public, but, on the other hand that no resolution declared it so and no advance public notice was given.

Council's explanation that it wanted the budget passed before the July 1 date for mailing tax bills is irrelevant. If council knew about the deadline, it should have scheduled the meeting early enough and still allowed time to publicize it. Surely, members know July 1 is a yearly occurrence. Proper scheduling could have eliminated the resulting cloak-and-dagger procedures. I also find it difficult to believe Mr. Walker when he was quoted as saying the document was passed, "to a point" - like saying someone is a little bit pregnant. I suppose - and that he "couldn't be certain" if a by-law giving the municipality the power to levy and collect taxes had indeed been passed. Perhaps he was

from the chamber

by Bob Stinson

It has just been confirmed that the Minister of Tourism and Recreation, Reuben Baetz has accepted the Chamber's invitation to be the guest of honour at the annual meeting dinner on October 20. It is anticipated that the Chamber will hold a full day of seminars and workshops similar to last year's popular format and move the business meeting to the afternoon to allow ample time for members to enjoy the guest speaker in the evening.

Details of the day's activities will be released in our next newsletter, but in the meantime, be sure to mark Wednesday, October 20 on your calendar now.

New Chamber facilities

Our new office facilities are now in place and we are moved in. Those who have dropped in have expressed great pleasure in the more roomy display area and we now have the space to attractively show information and brochures on facilities and attractions. Members are reminded to make sure we have an adequate supply of information on whatever they sell, service, or produce to dispense to the public here all year round.

The outside appearance of our new facilities have not met with the same enthusiastic comments however. We therefore feel compelled to let you all know that we are not yet finished and improvements are on the way. A billboard is being considered to cover the face of the portable building and the existing building is very shortly going to be painted to match the portable. Perimeter skirting is being installed and the Minden Horticulture Society has promised us some flowers, etc.

We also hasten to add that it is still a temporary measure to relieve the problems until a building fund can be established that will provide the County with a more appropriate Welcome Centre. A committee is presently working on design ideas and fund raising projects will be commenced in the coming year. In the meantime thank heavens for what we have!

What's new

In Carnarvon John Hogg tells us that they are celebrating the "Great Recession" with a good old fashioned soup kitchen in the Foggy Bottom complete with 9c coffee. It could only happen in Carnarvon.

In Dorset there is little sign of a recession. Brad Robinson of Robinson's store tells us business is up about 20% this spring and he has just opened a new two storey addition featuring an ice cream parlour and more Pine Emporium items. The Lumberjack Restaurant also opened this spring and it is well worth the drive to Dorset to see this spectacular establishment. It has been created from the remains of the old hotel with painstaking care by Leo Fortney and is filled with memorabilia of the logging era. The Nordic Inn is expanding too and Ben Minns proudly showed us his new dining or meeting room facilities complete with licenced balconies. The Nordic will now be able to host business meetings and private banquets without interruption to their regular guests services.

At Eagle Lake work is underway on additional accommodation facilities at Sir Sam's Inn which is scheduled to be in operation by July 1st. A further addition is yet planned for this fall.

In West Guilford, Bernie Nichols has turned over his restaurant, known as Bernie's Place, to Carol Stamp and Jane Duchene. The girls have renamed it Guilford Grill and advise us that they are open 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Sunday to Thursday and 9 a.m. to 11 p.m. Friday and Saturday. During July and August they will be open till 11 p.m. every night.

Tool and equipment rentals have always been something not readily available in Haldiburton Village until recently but Emmerson Lumber have now filled that void. Bill Emmerson assured us that they have everything from cement mixers to Santa Claus suits available, so if you are planning a Christmas party, hurry on down.

The townsite of Cardiff has never had so much as a corner store and now they are going to have a plaza. The new building has been taking shape under the guidance of Joe Paul for several months and an official opening is scheduled for July 2nd. A great day for Cardiff, we're sure. Sincere best wishes for prosperity to all these new ventures from all of us at the Chamber.

With interest rates sky-high and construction work in a serious slump, Lutterworth township is enjoying a building boom that seems to deny the tight grip of recession that has other municipalities writhing in fiscal pain.

Lutterworth building inspector Stephen Fox, has issued 39 permits so far this year, 13 more than last year, and he says construction work planned for the municipality since April totals $284,000. One seasonal residence planned for Kilcoo Camp is worth $130,000 alone, and additions, renovations and accessory buildings will add another $30,800 in construction costs to the activity. Fox estimates building starts in Lutterworth are up 20% in all over 1981.

By comparison, Anson, Hindon and Minden building inspector Dick Schell, estimates that permits issued this year are down at least 25% over last year. In Stanhope, clerk-treasurer Gerald Bain says eight permits have been issued in Stanhope since January, down from 17 at this time last year. Construction projects in Stanhope up to May last year, had a market value of $345,000 a figure which has dwindled to $140,000 in 1982. The decrease is considerable but the total is still not a paltry sum.

Fox can't be sure exactly what has stirred the boom in Lutterworth, but primarily he says it's the potential for land development that has drawn people to Lutterworth. "Significant areas have opened up for development in Lutterworth recently," Fox told The Times Tuesday afternoon. "In Little Bob Lake we have 15 or more construction projects going on. We've also had a considerable number of severances in the last three or four years, and they've made many lots eligible for building permits."

Fox also says that a recent population survey conducted by the Ministry of Revenue shows that Lutterworth's population is growing while in all other municipalities in the county, populations have either remained the same or gone down. "We have an expanding land base at the moment and a lot of potential for development."

misquoted - I hope for his sake that's true.

I also hope the passage of the budget is declared void because the meeting was not public, according to the Ministry of Municipal Affairs. The damage, I fear, has already been done.

This kind of snobbery is an insult to the community. But, there are ways for residents to express their views. Council members are fairly accessible - surely an advantage for a small town.

It's disappointing to read about such imprudent actions by local politicians. And, remember, gentlemen, November is fast approaching. I'm sure many people will not.

Sue Scott,
Peterborough.

Editor:

In your article "Minden budget passes million dollar mark", it is stated that $8,572 will go toward the cost of paving the parking lot and walkways at the Library/Cultural Centre." This needs clarification.

You reported in an earlier edition that the Library/Cultural Centre had received a federal grant of $17,161.50, for a New Horizon's program. The Co-ordinating Committee of the Centre are responsible for using the grant according to the accepted budget. The Council have agreed to pay the cost of the paving but with the foreknowledge that they shall be reimbursed the $7,645 budgeted for the purpose in our federal grant.

Farmers market approved for downtown Minden

The Haliburton County Farmers' Association is a step closer to establishing a farmers' market in downtown Minden following a decision by Anson, Hindon and Minden council officially endorsing the idea.

Bernard Trepanier, chief representative of the Farmers' Association, met with council last week to outline the group's proposals for the idea. Although the concept of a farmers' market for Minden has been talked about for some time, last week's motion by Minden council marked the first time that the idea has received official recognition from the municipality.

Following suggestions by Trepanier, council agreed that the market, to be held every Saturday morning beginning in July of this year, be established in the parking lot adjacent to the municipal office building. Council has also approved the lawn area adjacent to the fire hall as an alternative site for the market.

The market will be set up each Saturday by members of the Haliburton County Farmers' Association, who will then sell their produce from stands or vehicles at the site. No hours have been established for the market, although it is expected to start in the morning and finish by the early afternoon.

Trepanier has been an outspoken proponent of the market idea for some time. Following a presentation at a public forum on the CAUSE study several weeks ago, members of the public gave Trepanier strong support for the market, and Reeve Lloyd Walker agreed at last week's council session that the market was a "good idea".

Trepanier told council during last week's meeting that there has been some resistance to the market from Minden food store and retail operators, who have said that the market could affect business at their stores.

Trepanier argued against the protests, saying, "I strongly feel that, in a free market society, an idea like the farmers' market should be encouraged. I do not think a one day market each week will affect any of the food chains in the area."

Donations reach $220

Some two hundred and twenty dollars have been raised by Minden minister, Reverend Douglas Miller, to help British servicemen injured in the Falkland Islands conflict. The money was raised during the past three weeks in voluntary contributions of $10 from various individuals in the community.

Reverend Miller said the money would be forwarded to the British Consulate in Toronto where it will be sent to England to become part of a large fund. The money will assist in the rehabilitation of injured soldiers or to help families who have lost husbands and fathers.

Donations during the past week have been received from: Mr. & Mrs. Rowland Sedgewick, Mr. & Mrs. Fred Pratt, Mr. & Mrs. Everett Upton, Mrs. Winnie Fader, Mr. & Mrs. Clarence McInerney.

Hustlers split pair - weatherman takes third

The Rockcliffe Hustlers split a pair of games this past week losing to a strong Bobcaygeon team Wednesday at the Minden diamond and taking Downeyville Sunday afternoon.

The Bobcaygeon nine squeezed a 5-3 win out of the Hustlers after the visitors got on the scoreboard in the first inning with a walk and a home run by Joe Barrieau. The Hustlers were able to even the score at the bottom of the first on a walk by Gene Newell, single from Jack Snell and a solid double by Dave Hartwick.

The Hustlers made a strong effort in the sixth inning, getting two men on base, but the Bobcaygeon team closed them down leaving the pair stranded.

The win was awarded to Roger Harrison with the loss going to Jack Snell.

Sunday's game

The Hustlers were scheduled to play two games Sunday in Lindsay, but rain brought the schedule to an abrupt end midway through the first contest. The washout was unfortunate because the Hustler bats had just sprung to life, pushing out 14 hits against Downeyville in the five inning game. The final score was 12-4 in Minden's favour.

In the opening inning the Hustlers picked up five runs on two hits, two errors and a triple off the bat of Brian Shaw.

The Hustlers nabbed single runs in the second and third innings, then the hosts finally found their mark and tapped in four runs in the third inning.

The Hustlers picked up two more runs in the fourth inning and three in the fifth before the game was called.

Brian Shaw led the batting for the Hustlers with a homer, triple and double. He was also the winning pitcher. Jack Snell handled some of the hurling duties in the fifth inning for Minden. Losing pitcher was John Duffy.

The second half of the double header, against the Lindsay turbo, suffered the same fate as the first, both teams losing to the weatherman.

The Hustlers are at home this evening (June 16) to meet the league leading Lindsay Kent Tavern. This team has an unbeaten 6-0 record on the season. Game time is 8 p.m.

There will be no Minden game the following Wednesday as the Hustlers travel to Bobcaygeon June 23 to meet the merchants.

Tremendous response to minor ball league

The Minden minor softball league has received tremendous response according to the organizers, Cathy Short and Tom Russell.

Players, parents and local businesses have rallied to the support of the league and, according to the officials, there are close to 100 children participating in the Tuesday night games at the Archie Stouffer playground. Players range in age from three to fourteen years.

The response has been so great in fact that the organizers have been forced to set up a second diamond at the school grounds with eight teams taking part.

The youngsters are divided into groups according to their ages with the younger players using a tee. The organizers said the regular play has brought out talent in the youngsters.

Cathy Short and Tom Russell noted that special contributions have been made by local merchants to help get the league underway this season. Charlie Muli of Frontier Motors donated his time and talent in the construction of the T-ball stands with parts donated by Brown's Auto Wreckers, Northland Sales provided the league with a number of balls. The Men's Recreational Hockey League and the Men's Softball League made financial contributions to help establish the junior league and some used equipment was also received.

MNR announces 1982 deer season

The Ministry of Natural Resources has announced changes in deer hunting areas throughout agricultural southern Ontario. The Wildlife Management Unit system has been extended to cover the entire province, and will serve as a basis for establishing hunting seasons, setting quotas for harvest control, and the collection of wildlife management data.

In the Parry Sound, Muskoka and Haliburton areas, the deer hunting season for 1982 will be November 1 to November 6. The dates will apply for resident and non-resident hunters alike.

Ministry spokesmen are advising hunters applying for antlerless deer permits to consult the 1982 deer season map to determine the correct Wildlife Management unit for their area. Maps are available from licence issuers and Ministry offices. Most significant changes from last year's zoning have occurred in agricultural southern Ontario, according to the ministry.

Applications for 1982 antlerless deer permits may be obtained by purchasing a resident's or a farmer's deer licence. Applications will be available in mid-June. Hunters who wish to participate in a controlled hunt are being advised to contact the nearest district office of the MNR.

by Ron Reid - Federation of Ontario Naturalists

For a naturalist, a change of location means a change of wildlife as well, but sometimes the results can raise questions without answers. I've just returned from a wildlife conference in the Yukon, where every spare moment was put to good use spying on the local birds. From an ecological perspective, my list of new birds was fascinating.

Instead of our familiar eastern bluebird, for example, I found its close cousin, the mountain bluebird. This mountain variety sports the same electric blue back, but has a soft grey belly instead of the eastern's orange. It nests in similar kinds of habitats, in bird boxes on the outskirts of towns or farmland, and has a similar diet of small insects. So why have two different species of bluebirds resulted from the gradual evolution of Canadian birds?

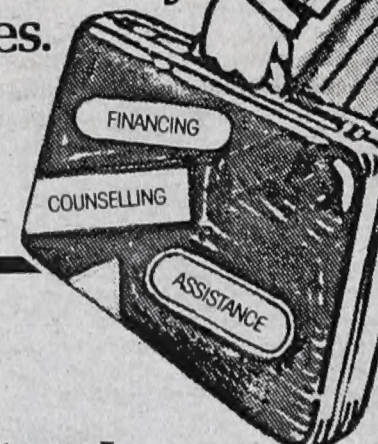

Similarly, the common gull scavaging the parking lots and dumps of the towns along the Yukon River is the mew gull, which ranges through the Yukon and Alaska. The familiar ring-bill gull, which is now so prevalent along the Great Lakes, stops its range just short of the Yukon. The two species look almost identical, have similar diets and nesting locations, and yet are distinct species. Why?

My list could go on. Our eastern bluejay is replaced by the Stellar's jay, with a dark crest on a blue body. Our tree swallow, which does occur in the Yukon, is joined by the violet-green swallow, with only minor differences in appearance and actions. Our cedar waxwing has its western counterpart in the Bohemian waxwing.

For some species, it's easy to equate a different ecological role with a different bird. The dipper, for example, is a bird that specializes in turbulent mountain streams, a habitat that is lacking in the east. But for many others, my naturalist's curiosity on the source of different species in the same ecological role is left without an answer.

Here comes the big top

The circus is coming. Once again this year Minden will play host to the Martin and Downs touring tent circus. The show will be in Minden June 25 for two evening performances.

The Minden Recreation Committee is sponsoring the visit of the circus.

The show will include the usual array of circus attractions such as aerialists, jugglers, trained animals, acrobats and of course, clowns. The performance will take place under a big top which will be erected on the fair grounds the morning of the performances.

The Martin and Downs Circus visited the community three years ago and is one of the last travelling tent circuses still in operation. The cast and crew visit 120 cities and towns during the season, which stretches from May to September. Most of the stops are for a single day.

The performances will proceed, rain or shine, according to the pre-promotion. The large 70 by 130 foot canvas tent is both water and fireproof. It takes approximately four hours to set up the canopy and an hour and a half to dismantle it.

Part of the circus day fun is the early morning preparations. The general public is invited to visit the fairgrounds during the day to watch the circus crew, assisted by the elephants, as they set up the big top and prepare for the evening's show.

Tickets for the circus are now available from various locations in the community. There is a discount for advance ticket purchases. The 90 minute performance takes place June 25 at 6 and 8:15 p.m.

Stand approved

Minden council has granted Bill Kulas, manager of the Red and White, permission to go ahead with plans for a refreshment stand at the store.

Although the new facility will be permanently stationed at the west side of the store, Kulas told council during a meeting last week that it will be open only during summer months. According to Kulas, the stand will provide coffee and light snacks for shoppers at the store.

The municipality has told Kulas that the new installation must meet with the approval of the health unit and comply with municipal by-laws.

Student's cabinet ranked third in Canada-wide woodworking contest

A Minden high school student has placed third in all of Canada for his woodworking ability. Jim McKelvey was the third place finisher in a contest sponsored by the Stanley Tool Company.

Jim, a native of Minden, was attending Oshawa's O'Neill Collegiate Institute, when he constructed his award winning cabinet.

His winning entry was a gun cabinet with storage area below. According to the young craftsman, the project took a month to build. "I spent my regular shop time and any spare time I had working on the project," Jim explains. "The cabinet was done from my own design."

The contest was open to all high school students. The fully dry. "After planing the wood down for use, it looked like red cedar," he commented.

The various projects were judged at schools across the country and then in regional competitions before the top five were selected and brought to Toronto for the final viewing. The first place prize winner collected $1000. The judging took place June 4.

Jim attributes his woodworking ability to the instruction he has received from his teacher at high school. Chuck Spellen has been his woodworking teacher for the past four years in Oshawa.

The gun rack and cabinet is not for sale. "I've been offered up to $1500 for the cabinet, but I plan on keeping it," Jim comments. He has built racks for others in the community and is currently working on a number of other projects.

Jim graduates from high school this year and will be moving to Minden to live. His award winning effort in the contest is a fitting way to end his school years and bodes well for the future.

Jim's cabinet is made of pine. "I was poking around in my grandfather's barn in Bobcaygeon last year when I discovered several pine boards tucked away under some hay. My grandmother recalled that it was at least 25 years ago that my grandfather George Schell, had cut the wood and stored it."

The wood was just what Jim needed for the project. In addition to the lovely grain of the pine boards and the rich, warm colour, the 25 years of aging ensured the wood was

The Minden Rotary Club has donated a table and benches to the Minden Library. Constructed by club members Ray Cox and Clayt Hummel, the natural pine finished table was moved in Monday. Librarian Jeanne Sears and Rotary Club president Ray Cox examine the gift which will no doubt be put to good use very soon by the library patrons.

book nook

Here's a look at some of the new books on the shelves at the Minden Library.

Juvenile fiction

L.M. Montgomery. This is another story with Pat Gardiner of Silver Bush and in the tradition of this Canadian writer everyone should enjoy this tale.

Juvenile non-fiction

J-153.1. Gallant. Memory - How It Works & How To Improve It. This book has chapters on how computers remember, and one especially on improvement of your own memory; something we might all need.

Adult non-fiction

819.1. R.W. Service. Canadian, 1907, reprinted 1968. Although published in 1907 these poems still stir up your imagination of the Yukon Gold Rush and the people involved.

Adult fiction

Kane And Abel, by Jerry Archer.

Kane & Abel spans more than sixty tumultuous years - from 1906 to the late 1960's - and revolves around William Lowell Kane, a millionaire financier, and Abel Rosnovski (born Wladek Koschewicz) a Polish immigrant who rises to become the head of a vast hotel empire.

They are both born in 1906. Kane, bright, worldly and industrious, is a descendant of the Lowells and Cabots, a Boston Brahmin, a member of an old and respected banking family. Abel is discovered newborn in a Polish forest, adopted by a trapper's family and is soon taken in by the wealthy Baron Rosnovski. Abel possesses all of Kane's attributes except - opportunity.

Consumed by ambition - Kane to surpass the financial feats of his father, Abel to make up for an early life of deprivation - each pursues his own road to success. Kane, his corporate strategy and clipped way of speech polished to a fine edge at Harvard, makes his first million in the stock market, becomes a director of his father's bank and marries a beautiful socialite who provides just the right touch of social grace he has previously not had time for. Abel, his raw courage and cunning learned in the prison camps of Siberia and in the dark alleys of Odessa begins a classic immigrant's rags-to-riches story, starting as a waiter at the Plaza Hotel, going to night school, getting his first break living the good life, marrying a Polish immigrant, and, more than anything, craving public acclaim.

Surrounded by a host of people who both befriend and deceive them, Kane & Abel through a series of events, develop a personal hatred for each other, setting the stage for a confrontation that rocks the financial community and the country - by its force and leads to a conclusion that is ironic, tragic, and shocking.

Rev. Burgess was real busy Sunday, June 6. He held a service at Eagle Lake in the morning, then to Haliburton Baptist Church I think in the afternoon, then with vim and zest took the service in the chapel here at Hyland Crest.

Watched three movies Monday night. "Wherever There's A Will" - "As Old As The Hills" - "The Fast Moving World of Nutrition" to keep the dogs and cats in condition.

Sorry we have Royce Harrison in Lindsay hospital. Hope he will soon be back with us again.

Tuesday morning a lovely Communion Service here by Rev. George Elliott, assisted by Mrs. Jean Waters. The music was played by Fred Ballard. By the way, we thank you for coming this lovely June Day. Tuesday night, Payne, Deacon, and Chapman came to entertain us all - and to give us the bad news that they won't be back 'till fall. We will surely miss them, but look forward to when they will return to play and sing for us again.

Our ladies are working real hard, as busy as can be. I wish you could drop in some time, then their work you can see.

Wednesday night is games night, here at Hyland Crest, and to beat the opponents, we do our very best. It is a social hour, where we have a lot of fun. What does it matter whether we've lost or won.

Dr. Pierce examined me, and said your ankles are swelling. As to the cause of this I am just not telling. I wouldn't be one bit surprised if he had said, "It isn't your ankles are swelling. I think it is your head."

Herbert Shorter saw a deer out here on our lawn. He said he thought it was a doe, or perhaps a great big fawn.

We have a lovely screened in porch 16 x 24 with lots of easy chairs, and carpet on the floor, where you can sit and reminisce of days gone by, when we could get up and dance a jig, and feel really spry.

Thursday afternoon the ladies of the Minden Bowling Club, put on the tea party. Today they brought in bowls of food and served it up so fine. We thank you for coming. Come again real soon, whether it will be morning, or in the afternoon.

With Kathy Hammel as pianist, the Haliburton Dixie

Wednesday, June 16, 1982

Land Band came over to Hyland Crest, and put on a concert that was simply grand. They played a couple of tunes for my wife and I who will be married sixty-four years on the thirteenth of June.

I offer no apology For being old and grey. For every line upon my face I've earned along the way. But tho' my hands are wrinkled

My body's lost its bounce, I'm still as young as ever in my heart,

And that is where it counts.

W.I. enjoys trip

The annual bus trip of the Minden Women's Institute was held June 9, with lovely weather and the sunny disposition of driver Ray Robinson greeting the passengers as they boarded at 10 a.m.

The trip travelled first to Markham where the passengers enjoyed a look at the new shopping mall and had lunch. Following the meal they visited the Markham District Museum. Housed in the former Mount Joy Public School, the museum was full of artifacts, maps and pictures, all carefully labeled. Adjacent to the museum was a Baptist Church which had been moved to the site, brick-by-brick and rebuilt. The group was told it took a year to complete the reconstruction.

There are other buildings at the site but they were not open for inspection.

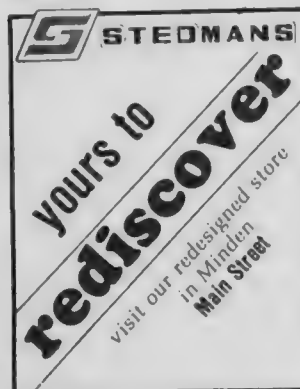

After boarding the bus again the journey continued to Cullen Gardens near Whitby, where they were immediately seated for a roast beef dinner with all the trimmings, and it was good indeed.

After dinner the troupe wandered through the gardens amid the pansies, begonias, everbloomers and countless other plants, including hanging plants. The garden features an entire miniature village. Many of the visitors noted the increase in the number of structures since their last visit. There was even a building on fire with miniature firemen attending to the emergency.

Around past lookout point and down over kissing bridge where they saw an outdoor stage. Also viewed was a pair of peacocks, with the male really strutting, his tail outspread. Behind this was a miniature carnival with all the rides including the overhead cars, all lit up.

The group visited the gift shop where you could find all the items you might like, including miniature furniture. There were four buses besides their own in the parking lot, an indication of how popular the spot is. Benches were located all along the paths so one might rest and look around at the pleasant scenery.

Hi! Guess your exams are almost over with. One thing I liked about exams, it meant school would soon let out for the summer. We did our tests just before the end of June. One the last day they'd let us know if we passed or not.

Don't forget if you roller skate, use knee pads, elbow pads, and a helmet. They stop you from being badly hurt.

We would like more of you children to join the Horticultural Society. Come out to see us the first Tuesday of every month at 7:30 p.m. in the Municipal Building. You'll have lots of fun.

Our Lady of Fatima will be holding a flea market on Saturday, July 3 at 10 a.m. on the lawn at the Canadian Bank of Commerce, in case of rain, it will be held next door in the furniture store. Anyone with saleable items they would like to contribute, please call 286-2422 or 286-2030.

On behalf of the campaign for the Arthritis Society, Earl Hewitt would like to thank the people of Minden and vicinity for their generous support.

Mr. Derek Rolfe of Maple Lake has just returned from a New Brunswick fishing trip. He was accompanied by his friend and guest Jack Harrison of Maple Lake. They both had a great time and stayed with Derek's friends who made their stay most pleasant. The two gentlemen went deep sea fishing and were about 8 miles from shore on the ocean, and although they arrived home with about one hundred pounds of cod between the two, they reported the fishing just wasn't that great. However, it was a new experience for Jack who said he really enjoyed himself immensely.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barjarow of Maple Lake, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Blanche Barry, have just returned home from a vacation spent in Nashville, Tennessee.

Mr. Bill McKay of Toronto, visited friends and relatives recently in Maple Lake.

I am sorry to report Mrs. Donnie Walker of the Minden Post Office has been on the sick list. All her friends and relatives of Maple Lake and Minden send their best wishes and hope she will soon be well again.

Sincere sympathy goes to Mrs. Pearl Lee of Maple Lake upon the sudden passing of her youngest brother.

Mrs. Elmer Harrison of Maple Lake wishes to announce the forthcoming marriage of her grandson Tony, son of Mr. and Mrs. Terry Walker of Brampton to Miss Ann Rose McLoughlin, also of Brampton. The wedding will take place on Saturday, July 17 at St. Anne's Church in Brampton. Our very best wishes to Ann Rose and Tony.

Grace and Ern Boycey from Gamebridge visited Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Robinson this past weekend.

Florence and Phillip Robinson were in Lindsay on Saturday to help celebrate his brother Leslie and sister-in-law Minnie's wedding anniversary which was held at the Robinson's home on Elgin Street, Lindsay. Congratulations and best wishes.

Please don't forget the Rummage sale at the Thrift Shop in St. Paul's Parish on Friday, June 18 from 10 to 4 p.m. There will be refreshments from 12 to 2 p.m.

Joyce Hewitt attended the graduation of her son Colin held in Convocation Hall at the University of Toronto on Saturday last. Colin graduated with honours and received a B.Sc. degree from the Faculty of Forestry. Colin won a Canadian Institute Forestry medal for 1982. A reception followed the ceremonies. Our congratulations to Colin.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Harrison of Maple Lake, spent the weekend in Gravenhurst with her sister and brother-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Les Hie.

I am sorry to report that Mr. Joseph Voiccy of Minden passed away last week. Our deepest sympathy to his wife and children.

Miss Shelley Russell and friend from Oshawa, visited with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hughes this past weekend.

Winnifred Bedlington is coming along nicely and is hoping to get up to Minden in July. Lyndsie who is at present with her mother in Oakville will be returning home on Wednesday.

Vera Ward, I am happy to report, is out of hospital and is convalescing at the home of her daughter Mrs. Clark, in Wilberforce. We all wish her a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Windover has returned home after a week's visit with her daughters in Lindsay.

Mrs. Clara Francis has returned from visiting her family at Red Bridge near North Bay.

Elsa Seuret has been visiting in Pickering and Oakville and will return home this weekend.

Last Thursday, June 10, the residents of Lutterworth Estates, held a dinner at the Hospitality Inn and they certainly had a great attendance. A delicious roast beef dinner was served following which was a sing-along led by Ann Baker, Bill O'Brien and Muriel Medley. A mock fashion show was held, commented by Doris Brown. Models were Ann Baker, Phyllis Wood, Isabel Clay, May Spence, Isabel Harrison and Flo O'Brien. Some of the gentlemen were attired in Toupees which were reminiscent of Ralph Kramden's Order of the Racoons. Ham Brown looked particularly fetching in a natty attire named Fruit of the Loom, which consisted of bags of fruit hanging fore and aft. And Isabel Harrison also was a stand-out in a black leotard over which she wore what was described as a seventeen hour girdle - because you couldn't stand it for eighteen. After this hilarious event dancing followed and a delightful time was had by all. The committee is composed of President, Ann Baker, Treasurer, Reg Hart, Secretary, Nettie Wilson and Sick and Visitation, Flo O'Brien. Our thanks to all for a very enjoyable evening.

On behalf of the members of the Agnes Jamieson Gallery, I would like to thank everyone who attended the Children's Art Show. A special thanks to the Librarians for keeping the Gallery open for us; to Mr. McKinlay and his gymnastic students for their performances on the mats and the parallel bars; to Mr. Carter's students for their musical selections and a very special thank you to Mrs. Jean Cox for arranging this exhibition for us, and to the students whose art was on display. The gallery is very proud of the talent shown by our local boys and girls. It is hoped that we will be able to arrange another exhibition of this kind next year.

Dr. Peter and Mrs. Susan Bennett of the Minden Animal Clinic will welcome Sue's mother, Dorothea Whitmore, June 26, on a visit from her home in England. Sue's brothers, all overseas, appreciate the Bennett's hospitality, but they write to say that (tongue in cheek) if she makes a nuisance of herself, Mrs. Whitmore's to be put on the next plane home.

Last Saturday, I attended the workshop conducted at the Rails' End Gallery by Sue Tabuchi on the Japanese art of Sumie. I don't know when I've spent a more constructive and enjoyable day. Sue is a most personable and talented lady, and she made the hours fly by. The only regret I felt was there wasn't more time. She had a great turn-out and her enthusiastic students were taught the technique of working with only one brush which can be used to create sturdy bamboo and yet the delicacy of the orchid. We were all very prolific and turned out many works, all in gradations of black to light gray. It was a fascinating experience for me and I am sure I speak for all who attended. Her work is currently on display at the Agnes Jamieson Gallery and the Rails' End Gallery in Haliburton for the remainder of the week and I do hope all will take advantage to view her beautiful works. Many thanks to Sue for a lovely day.

On Monday, June 21, the Agnes Jamieson Gallery at the Minden Cultural Centre will present a new exhibit by Dr. Agnes Jamieson and Walter Noice, both of whom are distinguished senior artists of Minden called The Golden Years. They have not only accomplished much for the good of Minden and its vicinity during their lives, but have done much to capture its aesthetic beauty for posterity. A reception will be held, with refreshments on Opening Night, which will begin at 7:30 p.m. and all are welcome. We hope many people will be on hand to give these two fine artists the accolades they so richly deserve.

IN MEMORIAM

HARRISON: In loving memory of a dear father and husband, Dave, who passed away June 17, 1980.

We often think of you dear Dave and our hearts are filled with pain.

Oh this earth would be Heaven, could we hear your voice again.

Two years have swiftly passed away but we remember you every day

In our hearts we loved you best

And your memory lingers yet.

Inserted by his loving wife Laura and son Harold.
